Hello, Saphire here! What's better than to close the year of 2014 with yet another release of Susume Seigaku! Isn't it awesome. We're closing to the end of this story arc now, and I know a lot of people are waiting for Azaraku to appear. He will soon. It's a little spoiler, but I suppose just knowing the name of the character won't hurt you too much.

Anyway in this chapter, especially on page 4, there are a lot of references being thrown around inside the lines, I hope you can read it without too much trouble although I'm sure you know nothing of the games he's talking about. Harbringer of Games is a twisted reference to Sakigaka!! Otokojuku anime, while Hot Blooded Tough Guy Kunio is a reference to Bunio-kun, a game about the life of high-school gangster. There is also a small reference to DragonBall, which I hope doesn't need any further explanation.
